Rainfall passes 5.5 inches in 24 hours; fields inundated; roads, highways, flood

by JAKE JACOB
Rain continued to fall yesterday adding to the 6.35 inches recorded by the NASA rain gauge at NSTL, as having fallen between 7 a.m., Monday and 7 a.m., Wednesday.
Of that amount, 5.5 inches were registered as having hit the ground between those times Tuesday- and Wednesday.
The Saint Stanislaus weather office.

confirmed rain amounts here, showing 5.25 inches of precipitation in the 24 hour time frame ending 0700 hours, Wednesday.
Rainfall in the southwest coastal area of the county passed both these totals however, with the gauge at Tennessee Gas Transmission indicating an even six inches in the same period.
Flooding throughout the county stayed moderate, with some water flowing over roadways, but none reported impassable by noon Wednesday.

Crane Creek bridge in the northern reaches of Hancock was experiencing about one inch of water across its deck early Wednesday, with local concern being felt for the expected Black Creek run-off raise.
Culverts and bridge water passages were reported all working to capacity, with large volumes of water moving in all natural drains and ditches.

Dead Tiger Creek was being watched for possible flood level waters due to the vulnerability of portions of the Kiln community should it overflow its banks.
Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said Wednesday morning that as far as had been reported all roads were still open but considerable care was needed by individual vehicle operators due to treacherous conditions and unexpected pools of water.
Police Chiefs Donald Dorn of Waveland and Douglas Williams of Bay St. Louis, echoed Ladner's sentiments for the need of extreme caution.
"We have had some cars drowned out."
"If people take their time and be careful and considerate of the other motorist, they can generally make it okay," Williams said.

Dorn said some flooding of vehicles was experienced on Mollere Drive, now being utilized as a detour around a portion of Central Avenue torn up for sewer installation.
"We have had a lot of water come down but if motorists drive slowly and carefully they should not experience trouble," Dorn concurred.
Schools throughout the county were generally open, with the exception of Annunciation in the Kiln, and St. Clare's, Waveland, both remaining closed Wednesday.
The Bay-Waveland Municipal Separate School District maintained schedule for half a day Wednesday, albeit operating with a high absentee rate.
Hancock North Central Principal James O'Hara said two buses failed to make it to school, the Fenton and Cuevettown routes, adding to his woes.

He said the water conditions in Bayside Park made school bus movement extremely difficult.

Federal court eyed for sect tax hearings

Earl Denham, Ocean Spring's attorney, reportedly said this week that he is uncertain whether or not relief will be sought from the federal courts in the case of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness vs. Hancock County Board of Supervisors.
The cause, in which Denham represents the sect, concerns a limited tax exemption granted by the supervisors to the society on 10 of the 640 acres of land in the northern part of the county.
The Krishna group had asked the supervisors for a tax exemption on all of the acreage, on the basis it operated both a church and school at the location.
The supervisors, on a 3-2 decision, voted instead on the 10 acre exemption, recognizing only the sect's church (KRISHNA - Page 6A)

Lott bill invites study

By EDGAR PEREZ
The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will conduct a public hearing at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Mississippi Power Company auditorium, Gulfport, on the question of diverting fresh water from the Mississippi River into the Mississippi Sound.
Bases of the hearing are the questions of whether or not to divert fresh waters into the sound, and if so, how to do it.
The Corps inherited the issue following passage of a congressional resolution introduced by Representative Trent Lott, R-Miss., calling for a study of the matter.
Lott took the action at the behest of Mississippi commercial fishermen who had noticed beneficial effects from the 1973 and 1975 openings of the Bonne Carre Spillway north of New Orleans between the Mississippi River and Lake Pontchartrain.
Those openings of the spillway diverted potentially dangerous levels of Mississippi River flood waters to the Mississippi Sound via Lakes Pontchartrain and Borgne.

Dr. David Veal, head of the Sea Grant Advisory Service of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service, feels the proposal will be especially beneficial to Mississippi fishermen, both commercial and recreational alike.
However, Veal noted many people feel Mississippi River waters contain pollutants which would do more harm than good if released into coastal estuaries.
"There is no documented proof that this is the case," Veal said, "but there is always that possibility."
"Ducree Bourgeois of Waveland, professional fisherman and member of the Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission, said "some fresh water is (BIG MUDDY" - Page 6A)

Commercial interests tug at future of Pearl River

by EDGAR PEREZ
Hancock County members of the Pearl River Basin Development District (PRBDD) today will join U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officials at Walkiah Bluff for an inspection tour of the upper East Pearl River.
Norton Haas of Bay St. Louis and L.J. Breau of White Cypress, PRBDD representatives from Hancock County, will meet with Colonel C. L. Blalock, district engineer for the Corps' Mobile District, and members of his staff in a continuing study of proposals to increase the amounts of water flowing into the East Pearl River.
Also participating in Thursday's inspection tour will be Arlie Stewart, Picayune businessman, and Lampton

Williams, Poplarville attorney, both Pearl River County representatives to the PRBDD.
"Our dream for the future is to have a recreational boatway along the Pearl River from the Mississippi Sound to Jackson," Haas said.
The Corps has been involved in several studies of the Pearl River Basin, including investigations of the feasibility of recreational development of the waterway.
"Principal projects addressed in the early action program which would affect the Pearl River County study area included snagging of 302 miles from the end of the NASA-NSTL canal on East Pearl River to the vicinity of Edinburg, and building of 82 recreational areas with boat launching ramps along the Pearl River and its principal tributaries," according to a 1970 Corps study of the basin.

But Haas reported Wednesday that for "eight months out of the year there's at least three miles of the East Pearl that are bone dry."
He said there is water in that stretch of the river north of Picayune near Walkiah Bluff only during four months of winter.
In a historic summary of the Pearl River Basin, the Corps reports, "In the early 1800's, the Pearl River was divided into two principal streams, the East and West Pearl Rivers."
"The division of the Pearl River and thus the head of these two distributaries was located just upstream of Walkiah Bluff in the vicinity of the head of the stream presently called Wilson (PEARL RIVER - Page 12A)

Jail breakers snagged in Hancock dragnet

An early afternoon APB (all points bulletin) issued by Picayune Police Department and the Pearl River County Sheriff's Department, brought swift response from Hancock law enforcement agencies on Saturday.
It also brought the apprehension of four jail escapees, subjects of the APB. Arrested in Hancock County were: Wilfred Summers, 20; Graylon Nun-tery, 21; Ronald R. Jackson, 22; Johnny Quilan, Jr., 22, all of New Orleans.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said his office received the report concerning the jail break around 2 p.m., Saturday, and the four escapees were safely back behind bars, only inside a different county lock-up, Hancock's, by 4:30 p.m., that afternoon.
Ladner said the four stole a car in Picayune, which was said to last have been seen heading east on Highway 59. Units from the Waveland and Bay St. Louis police departments, plus the Mississippi Highway Patrol, and Hancock Sheriff's Office promptly fanned out throughout the county, covering exits east and west on Interstate 10 and US-90, as well as 607 and (JAIL BREAK - 12A)

PRJC students face session fee hikes

Pearl River Junior College's Board of Trustees voted at their regular January meeting to increase the school's matriculation fee from $115 to $130 per semester.

Boarding students will also have to pay $7.50 more for their rooms and $45 more per semester for a five day meal ticket. Seven day and noon day meal tickets, bus transportation and shop fees were also increased.

"It was a necessity," Jerry Mitchell, business manager,

PRJC said this week, adding, "utilities and supplies keep going up, forcing us to increase the student's cost."

"Financially we are still in the black, and we intend to stay that way. The only way to combat the spiraling fixed costs, however, is to cut back and/or pass the expense on to the students," he said.

According to Mitchell the hike in matriculation will be used to offset the rising cost of utilities. The same explanation was given for the other increases passed.

Shop fees in the vocational departments were increased due to the rising cost of materials.

"We are no different than any of the other two year institutions. I've talked with most of the other business managers and they are having to do the same," Mitchell claimed.

Reports from the Junior College Division of the Mississippi State Department of Education placed Pearl River in the bottom half of the 15 junior college districts based on expenses for attending one year.

"Our students will pay less than most other junior college students next year," Mitchell commented.

State, county and federal funding will remain about the same as last year. None of the six counties that support Pearl River have decreased their fundings.

Expenses at Pearl River Junior College per session are as follows:

Matriculation, $130; boarding students living in Crosby, Huff, Lamar, Pearl River and White Halls (all air-conditioned), $75; Marion Hall, $78; meals - 5 days per week ($55 per month), $247.50; meals - 7 days per week ($67 per month), $301.50; noon meal ticket, $75; refrigerator rental ($10 deposit), $25; boarding students living in Bilbo Hall: One bedroom apartment, $50 per month, two bedroom apartment, $60 per month; utility charge for use of own a-c, $15 per month; out-of-district fee: students living in Mississippi but not living in the Pearl River Junior College taxing district, but in another junior college district, $15 per six weeks or $90 per session; out-of-state fee: non-resident tuition fee of $200 per semester for all students whose parents or guardians are not legal residents of the state of Mississippi. (Non-resident tuition is due and payable at the beginning of each semester).

Special fees payable per semester: late registration, $5; schedule change (unless recommended by dean or director) $10; graduation, $15; piano - two lessons per week (non-music majors), $36; band instruments - two lessons per week (non-music majors), $22.50; voice - (non-majors), $27; bus transportation, $48; science lab fee, $5; office machines, $7.50; typing, $7.50; accelerated business course, $15; general clerical, $15; legal secretary, $15; medical secretary, $15; cosmetology (one time charge), $92; data processing, $40; book rental fee (academic and technical), $25; replacement ID card, $3; room deposit, $25; key deposit, $5; welding, $120; auto mechanics, diesel mechanics, carpentry, refrigeration and a-c, electricity, and masonry, $60; and machine shop, $75.

Tool deposit will be charged for all vocational courses and will be returned, if applicable, $10.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

by DIDDY QUINLAN

Presently, I am attempting to draw up a master plan of our recreational activities for the entire year. This way I hope to publish a monthly calendar of events, in an easily readable style.

Our program will consist of weekend activities (in addition to our current classes) through May; then daily activities throughout the summer.

Weekly or semi-weekly sessions for the summer include: exercise classes, card games, bird-feeding, campfire programs, movies, arts and crafts for children, and crabbing trips.

One special event for the summer designated the month of June as Weather Month. All budding meteorologists are encouraged to participate. Each day weather observations will be recorded at 8 a.m., 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. to coincide with the records of the U.S. Weather Bureau. Hopefully, after a month of such logging, we will develop a fairly accurate "weather-eye."

Also, once a month we will sponsor trivia contests. This is a very popular hobby with young folks today and I think it will be a lot of fun. I hope to have a favorable response to this new program.

Other special events include "Mississippi Week - July 2-8" and "American Indian Week - Aug. 6-12." Both of these events will consist of films, speakers, crafts, and demonstrations. There will be more information about these later as plans become firmer.

And, I can't forget my very special event - the Third Annual Buccaneer Fishing Rodeo. This event is scheduled for July 29, and again is opened for anyone aged 5 to 15.

The afore-mentioned

FOOD AND AG. ACT

The provisions of the Food and Agricultural Act of 1977 and other related ASCS programs will be discussed at a public meeting, scheduled for 7 p.m., tonight, Thursday, Jan. 26, in Hancock North Central School Cafeteria.

We cannot understand

For as long as we can remember, residents of Waveland and surrounding areas tonged oysters on the Waveland reef.

The reef is now closed and not for the first time, because the State Board of Health reported the bacteria count in waters over the reef to be above the minimum standard.

If Waveland's Sewer System is what it's said to be, there shouldn't be any reason for the reef to be closed, unless there are violations.

We, having floundered the beach from one end of Waveland to the other, many, many times, before and after the sand beach was pumped in, know first hand there are numerous drains emptying into the Sound.

The logical place to start looking for bacteria causing problems would be to follow these drains and see if there are any residents in Waveland illegally utilizing these instead of being hooked up to the city sewer system.

We have been told by health officials that the main cause of bacteria is raw sewage.

We feel the State has done the correct thing in closing the reef, if the bacteria count is above the minimum standard.

We also feel that Waveland's officials should promptly find out if there are any violations of laws concerning raw sewage being dumped into the Sound.

Today wouldn't be soon enough.

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

The easy way out

From time to time there has been talk of consolidating the Bay-Waveland Municipal School System and the Hancock County School System.

The outcome has always been nothing more than talk, due mainly to the reluctance of school boards and administrators to tackle the problem.

A House Bill filed in the Legislature by House Education Committee Chairman Robert Clark of Ebenezer, will force the consolidation issue, should it receive a favorable vote.

Just think, no one locally will have to make the decision to consolidate, it will be made in Jackson.

We wonder if Jackson or Washington will have to make all the decisions of worth for the future of this county.

Opinion/Ellis Cuevas

A big splash

Stennis International Airport, in Hancock County is a 1978 model airport with a fire engine needing a team of mules to pull it and a squad of boy scouts to man the pumping handles.

What good is a fire engine without a motor?

Last May when the engine was acquired for the airport from government surplus, we thought some effort would be made to acquire and install an engine.

We are sure, enplaning and deplaning passengers must think Hancock Countians are a bunch of hicks, for having a fire engine without a motor for mobility or creation of pressure for foam and water fire fighting capabilities.

Washington report

By Trent Lott

LONG ON STYLE, SHORT ON SUBSTANCE

President Carter's first State of the Union address, delivered last week to a joint session of Congress, was largely as expected: the style was good but the substance was lacking.

Some points made by the President—such as tax cut proposals and creation of a federal Department of Education—would provide a real benefit; however, his overall tone led many members of Congress to think he is still clinging to lofty platitudes.

I fully agree with the principle behind his tax cut proposals. As I pointed out in my last newsletter, the average American spends two hours and 42 minutes of the working day just to pay taxes. Steadily increasing taxes at all levels of government are resulting in a crushing blow and the burden must be lightened.

The President proposed a $17 billion tax cut for individuals and a $6 billion reduction for businesses. But I was very disappointed that his proposal appears to be little more than a one-shot tax cut in 1979 instead of an across-the-board tax rate reduction over a period of years. It appears to be little more than his $50 tax rebate proposal, which was shelved last year.

I have long looked favorably on the creation of a federal Department of Education as a means of improving the system. Currently, education is included in the bureaucratic maze of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, where untold tangles exist.

There were some parts of the President's address which sound good but are tied so closely to idealism that implementation seems unlikely. While he continues to talk a good game, the proposals he sends to Capitol Hill do not reflect his rhetoric.

For example, he speaks of balancing the federal budget; and, in the next breath, endorses a terribly expensive Humphrey-Hawkins "full employment" bill of questionable validity. He also voices support for a national health insurance bill and doubling of the public service jobs program, even as federal spending runs rampant.

The only real dent in the federal budget so far comes in the crucial category of defense, where Carter administration officials want to cut down in Navy shipbuilding and other areas. Indicative of the President's defense philosophy, perhaps, is that his defense recommendations can be found on page 32 of a 33-page message he sent to Congress in connection with his State of the Union address.

The President in the message recognizes that increases in defense spending "are needed to maintain an adequate military balance in the face of continued Soviet military efforts." Still, he shelves a modern, new Navy aircraft carrier, works to cancel production of the B1 bomber and places the cruise missile on the bargaining table.

The President must correct his inconsistencies before he gets a "more effective partnership" with the Congress, which he says he wants. He must come forward with specific legislative proposals and not flood the Congress with his suggestions, many of which are contradictory.

He said, "Government can't solve all our problems." I hope he doesn't forget it.

Health and Safety Tip

From the American Medical Association

MILLIONS LIVE NORMAL
LIVES WITH DIABETES

At least two in every hundred Americans have diabetes. And one of those two is not yet aware of it. In early or mild diabetes the typical symptoms aren't disabling, and there may be virtually no symptoms at all.

Diabetes is a serious disease for which there is no cure. But, fortunately, most of those with known diabetes who have been able to control their body chemistry live such normal lives that you wouldn't know about their diabetes unless you were told.

Diabetes is characterized by the inability of body tissues to utilize carbohydrates (sugar and starch), both for immediate energy needs and in storage for future needs. Too little effective insulin is present to let sugar be used, so that sugar accumulates in the blood and spills over into the urine. The sugar must have water, which is excreted through the kidneys. This process dries out body tissues, causing excessive thirst, one of the first symptoms of diabetes. Other symptoms are loss of weight, increase in urination, hunger, unexplained tiredness, pains in the legs, itching, and skin infections. As the disease becomes more severe and the patient grows older, the blood vessels, kidneys and eyes may be affected.

circumstance even with the county's recent inclusion in the disaster area designation.

This latter move will permit the availability of low interest loans for the purpose of seed, planting costs, and the like.

"Particularly affected will be those farmers who planted late due to the county's earlier misfortunes with the weather, or those who were unable to harvest their fields earlier in the year," Smith continued, adding, "We now have so much moisture in the ground it will probably be impossible for farmers to work their fields again until the middle of February, if then."

The county agent said that last year's yields were in the neighborhood of 30 to 32 bushels per acre, whereas this year, between the drought, insects, blight, and over moisture, the rate would be closer to 10 to 15 bushels per acre.

Of this harvest, Smith estimated, over 50 percent sustained bug or other insect damage, resulting in a loss of grade.

"With such a low yield and grade, it hardly paid many farmers to harvest their crop."

"It costs $20 an acre to combine the beans, a cost in itself significant on a low yield crop," Smith explained.

Asked what would be the result of a second bad year in 1978, should farmers have already used their credit to obtain disaster loans for the 1977 failure, Smith replied, "Complete disaster."

Control of diabetes is worked out by balancing the kind and quality of food intake and the use of exercise and insulin. This usually can be done without interrupting the patient's routine of living very substantially. Half of all patients who develop diabetes after age 35 can manage their disease by diet alone.

The cue to successful control of diabetes, says the American Medical Association, is early detection, understanding rather than fear, and a well-managed balance among food intake, physical activity, and insulin or oral medication. This comes about when patient and physician work together in mutual understanding. No patient can maintain continuous successful control of diabetes without regular visits to his or her doctor. Ignorance of proper self-care is the greatest single hazard of diabetes.

VO-TECH MAKES PROGRESS

The educational level of a workforce can frequently determine whether or not an industry locates in a particular town.

Six years ago the Mississippi Economic Council conducted a study of the state's system of vocational-technical education—a study which showed that the needs of industry were not always being met.

MEC has recently completed another report, "Vocational-Technical Training—A Five-Year Review." The report shows progress has been made in the area of responding to industry's needs, but it also notes more work is needed.

For many years, Mississippi schools were producing entirely too many agriculturally trained workers who had no jobs when they left schools. The system now seems to be responding more to the needs of private industry.

Among the conclusions of the report were——Junior college vo-tech programs are generally responsive to the needs of employers.

—There is a duplication of programs in certain areas—duplication which is considered unnecessary.

—There is a lack of coordination between the State Department of Education and the Governor's Office of Job Development and Training. Where possible, responsibility for vo-tech program administration should come under the State Department of Education.

—There should be a continuing examination of all programs, in addition to adequate funding for those programs.

—There should be communication among industrial development groups, employers, and vocational-technical training directors.

We are making progress in this area. If we can continue to make strides, our state will continue to progress economically.

good for oysters."

Bourgeois noted that opening the spillway for "two to four weeks is fine, but opened from one to two months will kill all the oysters."

Bourgeois feels other commercial fishing interests, such as cat food producers who use large amounts of croakers and other small fish, would like to see more fresh water in the sound than would be good for oyster interests.

According to Dr. Veal, "Man has spent two centuries building levees and channels to control the Mississippi River for his comfort and convenience."

"The resulting lack of fresh water has allowed salt water to intrude far into our coastal estuarine system and has slowly altered much of our coastal environment and wildlife," Dr. Veal feels.

"These areas include habitats that support commercial and sport fish, bird life, fur bearing animals, alligators, and provide for a wide variety of water-related recreation," Dr. Veal continued.

"Scientists believe that a controlled discharge of fresh water into the coastal area will greatly benefit marine life," the marine specialists noted.

Veal pointed out that influxes of fresh water in the past, usually from flooding, reduced salt water intrusion and the resultant high salinities in the marshes.

The flooding also added nutrients that helped produce more fish, shrimp, oysters, and crabs, he said, adding, "the fresh water ridged oyster beds of the conch, a deadly predator."

According to Dr. Veal, the amount of shrimp and oysters produced by Mississippi fishermen dropped in 1970 to nearly half of what it was in 1960.

He said although a loss of fresh water has not been the sole cause of the decline, most of the estuarine nursery areas are still capable of producing and supporting life.

"In fact," he added, "after a flood in 1927 which brought fresh water into the area, Louisiana reported heavy growths of oyster beds that previously had not produced at all for several years."

Reports following other floods indicated similar effects. After a fresh water influx in 1937, the size of oysters doubled in two and one-half months. Quantities of speckled trout increased, and there were huge crops of shrimp, crawfish and many other kinds of fish, according to Dr. Veal.

Dr. Veal also noted that even though the effects of introducing fresh water can be highly beneficial, they can sometimes be destructive.

"If fresh water influx is not controlled some kills may occur. However, once the water subsides, growth of marine life usually increases above what it had been beforehand," he pointed out.

Dr. Veal stressed the importance of all persons with interests in the Mississippi Sound and adjacent waterways, whether they be commercial or recreational, attending the Wednesday meeting.

"All persons who want to express their needs and ideas on providing fresh water to our area should certainly not let this opportunity pass them by," he said.

In addition to the Gulfport hearing Wednesday, the Corps has scheduled another meeting on the matter at 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 9, at the Rivergate in New Orleans.

The area under study by the Corps to determine feasibility and effects of the proposal extends from Dauphin Island in the east to the east bank of the Mississippi River between Bayou Manchac south of Baton Rouge and Bayou Terre aux Boeuf in the St. Bernard marshes below New Orleans.

The Corps has suggested four ways to get the fresh water from the Mississippi River to the Mississippi Sound:

—Via the Bonne Carre Spillway through Lakes Pontchartrain and Borgne.

—Via Bayou Manchac south of Baton Rouge through Lakes Maurepas, Pontchartrain and Borgne.

—Via Bayou Terre aux Boeuf through Breton and Chaudéaux Sounds.

—And, via New Orleans' Industrial Canal through the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

Pete Hawkhurst of the Corps' district office in New Orleans said each of the alternatives presents advantages and problems of its own.

"There are legal restrictions on opening the Spillway, and even if they were overcome and a canal built on one side of the Spillway to carry the water, the Mississippi River water entering the lake might muddy that body to an undesirable extent," Hawkhurst said.

"Connecting Bayou Manchac to the river below Baton Rouge would allow much of the silt to be dropped off in Lake Maurepas. A gated spillway would have to be built, and with that, the volume of water carried would still not equal that of opening the Bonne Carre in a flood year," the Corps official continued.

"Opening Bayou Terre aux Boeuf to the river near Foydras in St. Bernard Parish would dump a large quantity of water into Chaudéaux Sound, some of which might find its way to the Mississippi Sound. But it also might cause shoaling of the Mississippi River Gulf Outlet," he pointed out.

"Finally, shunting fresh water through the Industrial Canal, where the Corps plans a new lock, and then through the Intracoastal Waterway would require putting gates at the head of the Mississippi River Gulf Outlet to keep the water from heading down that way. It would have the advantage of placing the fresh water outlet directly in the Mississippi Sound, and the water also would benefit St. Bernard and eastern New Orleans marshlands without muddying Lake Pontchartrain," the engineer explained.

Hawkhurst says that piping the water from the river to the sound would be impractical.

As a matter of fact, he adds, the volume of water moved through river siphons in St. Bernard, for instance, is no where near the amount needed to have any impact on the Gulf Coast.

Hawkhurst echoed the sentiments of Ducree Bourgeois and Dr. Veal about the effect of too much fresh water on oysters.

"Also to be considered," he says, "is that while a small amount of fresh water helps oyster beds, it appears that too much can be bad. Thus dumping water where it would enter Lake Borgne, for instance, might not be wise."

In its official announcement of the meetings, the Corps poses the question "What for?"

"To afford all interested parties the opportunity to express their desires, needs, and views on the advisability of providing freshwater in the interest of improving the wildlife and fisheries in the Mississippi and Louisiana Estuarine Areas," the Corps answers.

The Corps describes the study area as "located in southeast Louisiana and southern Mississippi and Alabama. It includes portions of the 10 Louisiana parishes bordering Lakes Maurepas, Pontchartrain and Borgne, and the three Mississippi and one Alabama counties bordering the Mississippi Sound. The area extends from Dauphin Island at the eastern end of the Mississippi Sound to the east bank of the Mississippi River between Bayou Manchac and Bayou Terre aux Boeuf."

"The wetlands and water bodies support abundant wildlife and fisheries resources and associated recreation opportunities," according to Lt. Col. L. A. Hubert Jr. acting district engineer for the Corps' New Orleans District.

"These resources are utilized by both commercial and sport interests, and make a significant contribution to the economies of the two states," the colonel continued.

"This study will explore the means of introducing fresh water to improve the productivity of wildlife and fisheries in the study area," he said.

"We urge all interested persons to be present or represented at the meeting. All will be afforded an opportunity to express their views and furnish information pertinent to the study, including technical, economic, social, and environmental material," Col. Hubert stated.

He pointed out that statements may be submitted orally at the meeting or mailed to District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, New Orleans, Corps of Engineers, P.O. Box 60267, New Orleans, 70160.

At the meetings, Col. Hubert said, any person may appear on his own behalf or be represented by others.

Speakers are asked to organize their statements so that all pertinent aspects may be rapidly and effectively presented, with oral presentations limited to 10 minutes in length, he explained.

The Corps official stated the "record of the meeting" will remain open for a period of 30 days after close of the public hearings to allow submission of written statements.

The Gulfport meeting will be opened by J. E. Thomas, executive director of the Mississippi Marine Resources Council, and Col. Early J. Rush III, district engineer of the Corps' New Orleans District.

A question and answer session will follow presentation of statements by interested individuals and groups, and the meeting will be closed with remarks from Rush and Thomas.

Denham reportedly said, "My plans are to carry this suit to the very highest court levels to prove my point."

"I was not able to ask Circuit Court Judge Leslie Grant for a trial date in the January term because one of my partners is in the state legislature and the workload has been too much for me to ask for a trial at this time."

Denham, it was said, claimed he was not sure whether he would continue to seek relief through the state court or whether he would try to go into federal court.

He said he would meet with the supervisors' attorney, Walter Gex, III, and the court.

"If I am restrained in my case, to restrict myself to decisions by the supervisors, then I feel I will have to go into federal court," Denham reportedly said.

Commission curtails

illegal trapping

The stricter enforcement of trap baiting laws called for by the State Fish and Game Commission will not seriously affect trappers in Hancock County, according to Game Warden Pat Toomey.

"We have fifty to sixty licensed trappers in Hancock County," Toomey commented. "These are mostly commercial trappers who look for nutrias and muskrat. Since these animals have definite trails which they follow through the swamps, there is no real need to bait a steel trap to attract the animal into it."

The Mississippi Game and Fish Commission has reportedly received several complaints of hunting dogs and pets being caught in illegally baited traps, resulting in a crackdown on trapping law violators instigated by Joe Stone, state director of conservation. Mississippi law prohibits baiting traps in any manner.

"This is something we cannot condone," commented Stone. "Our crackdown on illegal baiting in no way reflects on the hundreds of law abiding citizens who legally trap. We support this."

"Baited traps are mostly used to catch fox," Toomey explained, "and in Hancock County, it really doesn't pay to trap fox. We have had very little problem with baited traps in this area. In the northern part of the state it is an altogether different situation."

Trapping in Hancock County is a lucrative business, according to Toomey. Commercial trappers set their lines in the swamps and marshland for muskrat and nutria, then sell the furs to local buyers. Other places buy the meat to use as crab bait or to feed dogs, so there is no waste.

Trappers must buy a license to set their lines in Hancock County. When they pay the $5.50 fee, they are given a registration number which must either be stenciled on the trap in some way or attached to it by a metal tag.

Traps without identification are in violation of state law and are subject to removal by officers.

Mothers to March for March of Dimes

Hancock County volunteers will conduct the annual "Mothers' March" for the March of Dimes during the week of Jan. 29, 1978.

The March of Dimes conducts the annual neighborhood drives throughout the country to raise money for the organization's fight against birth defects, according to Mississippi Gulf Coast chapter executive, Margie McFarland.

Volunteers from several civic, social, fraternal and youth organizations within Hancock County will begin the door-to-door campaign on Sunday, and continue the drive throughout local neighborhoods during the coming week.

Volunteer solicitors will be wearing March of Dimes name tags.

Pearl River...

Slough," the summary notes.

"The East Pearl River flowed in a southeasterly direction across the section presently known as 'the Shoals' and thence into Lake Borgne, a distance of about 48 miles, forming the boundary between the southern parts of Mississippi and Louisiana," the Corps report continues.

"At that time, Holmes Bayou was a small distributary extending from the East Pearl River to the West Pearl River. About 1850 the East Pearl River became congested with rafts of logs to such an extent that the current of the stream was forced through Holmes Bayou," according to the summary.

"The bayou was enlarged to such an extent that it captured the major flow of the East Pearl River," Corps records show.

"The West Pearl River distributary flowed westerly about two miles, thence in a southerly direction, about parallel to the East Pearl River, to its mouth at the Rigolets, a distance of about 44 miles.

"In 1880 it was estimated the West Pearl River captured about two-thirds of the flow of the Pearl River," the report explained.

"During the period between 1880 and 1890, the heads of the West Pearl, Fairs Slough, Little Holmes Bayou and other streams were blocked in an endeavor to provide a federally authorized navigation channel from the Rigolets through the lower West Pearl, Holmes Bayou and into the Pearl River," the report continues.

"This work, though not well documented, is assumed to have been done by the Corps of Engineers. In connection with this work, the Corps also constructed a cut-off three-fourths miles above the head of the West Pearl River to divert water into the East Pearl River," the Corps study shows.

Conversion of the West Pearl into a navigable waterway for barges from the Rigolets to Bogalusa, La., was authorized by Congress in 1935. Work was started on the project in 1938, and the waterway was opened to navigation in 1953.

"Large quantities of gravel were transported over the waterway for a number of years, but waterborne commerce is now virtually nonexistent," the Corps report states.

Haas said Wednesday opposition from Louisiana to diversion of Pearl River waters to the East Pearl is minimal since commercial traffic on the waterway has died out.

"Louisianians are primarily interested in maintaining the West Pearl as a recreational waterway and wildlife refuge," Haas stated.

The Corps report notes modifications to the West Pearl waterway were authorized by the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1966 "to provide for a number of cutoffs in the lower 26 miles to remove dangerous hazards to vessel traffic." But due to objections from the State of Louisiana to this canalization of the West Pearl, "construction of these modifications have not been initiated," the Corps reported.

"These modifications are objected to by environmental interests and the State of Louisiana and are presently being considered for deauthorization," the Corps reported.

Haas maintains the PRBDD proposals for diversion of waters from the Pearl River to the East Pearl would not interfere with Louisiana's interests in the West Pearl.

The Honey Island Swamp between the West and East Pearl Rivers has come under the ownership of the State of Louisiana and is maintained as a wildlife management area.

Haas said the PRBDD is also vitally interested in part two of a two-part study now underway by the Corps. An introduction to an August, 1977, report on the two-part study by the Corps states:

"The Mobile District Office—U. S. Army Corps of Engineers is making a detailed economic evaluation of transportation benefits which might be derived from:

"1—Reactivation of the existing West Pearl River navigation channel, and
"2—A new navigation channel which would extend from the existing Gulf Intracoastal Waterway at the mouth of the East Pearl River, past NASA-NSTL to the vicinity of Picayune."

The only plausible justifications for further canalization of the upper East Pearl River, the Corps reports, would be for the sole benefit of sand and gravel producers in the Pearl River Basin.

Haas said the PRBDD is definitely interested in further commercial development of the East Pearl River, but added, "we are not thinking in terms of canalization of the river."

The Corps report continues: "Dames and Moore (developers of the study for the Corps) has concluded that the potential exists for the development of sand and gravel barge traffic on an East Pearl River canal north from the NASA entrance to a terminus at Nicholson-Picayune."

"The two sources of this primary downstream barge traffic are as follows:

"—Existing pits on Honey Island Farm and readily developable quarries adjacent to or closely paralleling the East Pearl Waterway, and
"—Deposits north of Picayune-Nicholson which would be transhipped from trucks to barges at a facility near the terminus of the canal."

"There is considerable evidence to support these conclusions: the existing quarry operators at Honey Island are anxious to get access to barge transportation; and as noted earlier in this report, there are large reserves of sand and gravel immediately contiguous to the proposed East Pearl Waterway which could be put into production given the access to economical transportation that the canal would provide," the report continues.

"There are several potential negative issues which could arise from construction of an East Pearl waterway. Since these are beyond the scope of this study, they are merely listed here for future reference:
"Possible conflict by various interest groups over any upstream redistribution of the respective present flows in the West and East Pearl Rivers."
"Possible staunch environmental opposition to both the canalization of the East Pearl River and the on-land disposal of dredge spoils along the course of the proposed waterway."
"Possible opposition by local public interest groups over another taxpayer subsidization of the sand and gravel operators who are regarded by many as already being overly-protected and insufficiently appreciative of past taxpayer support."
"Possible demand for full decommissioning of the West Pearl waterway as a quid pro quo for any eventual environmental approval of an East Pearl waterway."
"For significant use by large scale shippers, the proposed East Pearl Canal should be built so as to facilitate movements of at least three and preferably four 1,200-ton barges per tow."

"This action alone would permit economic barge transportation of aggregates (sand and gravel) to Gulf Coast consumption points.

"However, to allow shippers to realize fully the transportation savings offered by the canal, the transit bottlenecks through the Inner Harbor Canal and Locks (the Mississippi River harbor system at New Orleans) must be eliminated to provide ready access to West Bank consumption centers.

"There is a dual issue involved here: in order to have aggregate consumers build and install efficient barge unloading facilities, shippers must demonstrate that they can deliver in volume with reliability; in order to do so, the restrictions to barge movements must be eliminated—with the construction, if necessary, of an authorized second Industrial Canal (between Lake Pontchartrain and the Mississippi River in New Orleans).

Among numerous reasons noted during personal and telephone interviews conducted by Dames and Moore as to why the existing West Pearl Waterway has not been utilized in recent years, the Corps report listed:

"The readily accessible sand and gravel deposits west of and adjacent to the West Pearl Waterway have been largely depleted.

"Coincidentally, two factors greatly enhanced the economics of trucking: the introduction of lightweight aluminum truck boxes which increased payload capacity, and completion of I-59 which provided fast, direct access to the greater New Orleans area."

With the West Pearl as an example, canalization of the East Pearl River with all of its negative implications, may only produce a limited interest waterway which could be obsolete in less than 20 years.

average absentee load due to flu but with parents keeping their children at home and the difficulty in movement we are down to about a 50 percent student load," O'Hara explained.

Harlan Hill, principal, Gulfview Elementary, Lakeshore, reported about one third of his enrollment out yesterday due to weather or flu, with the former the most likely suspect.

The new drainage system being installed on the Lakeshore and Lower Bay Roads passing in front of his school is not yet complete but Hill said was handling the water in fine fashion.

"It's working," Hill said, in a tone of obvious pleasure.

Rainwater run-off has been a problem at Gulfview for several years, following the raising of elevation on the resurfacing of the state-aid road.

Over the last few weeks, the state aid division has been working on a corrective drainage system, complete with catch basins and feeders.

The Slidell School Bus to the Christ Episcopal Schools failed to make it out of that city Wednesday, adding its quota of absentees to the system.

Christ Episcopal Day School, with an enrollment of 153, having experienced very little flu (an average of five or so a day being out), sustained a loss of about one third of its students due to flood conditions.

Christ Episcopal High School underwent much of the same sort of experience with about 75 percent of its 100 students reporting for class Wednesday.

Seventy-three students failed to make it to the Charles B. Murphy Elementary School, Pearlinton, on Wednesday, a significant percentage of its 224 enrollment.

Water here was reported across Highway 604 between Pearlinton limits and the Logtown turn-off but roads were open.

Bay Senior High School, which was dismissed at 1:30 p.m., 30 minutes behind the closing of the separate school system's elementary schools, had 100 of its 475 students home through sickness or flood condition.

C.J. Cameron, principal, Bay Junior High School, lost about a third of his 600 students to the weather and flu. Here the absentee rate had been holding at 100-110 for the last few days, all attributable to sickness.

Two hundred and twenty-three students missed classes on Wednesday at North Bay Elementary, where on Tuesday the count stood at 113 out sick. The school, which has a total student body of 663, also experienced concern over its teaching staff with seven being absent either sick, on special leave, or at a teaching workshop.

Conditions at Waveland Elementary School were described by Principal James Baldrée simply as, "Wet!"

Waveland's count of "missing" through weather and flu, mid-week stood at 110, up from an average of 50 from flu alone during the previous days.

Annunciation Principal, Sister Joan Lorraine, said that prior to the big rains, her school's absenteeism rate from sickness stood at between 13 and 20. Total enrollment is 90.

Sister Lorraine said the school could not take chances with the safety of the children and therefore had decided to close Wednesday in preference to having the bus fight mud and water.

Harlan Hill of Gulfview had said much the same thing, telling his drivers to "take your time," adding he would rather have them arrive late than be involved in an accident.

Our Social Hour, Jan. 16, in spite of the weather and with many of our friends stricken with various types of ailments at home, enjoyed excellent attendance. Close to 90 Senior Citizens had an enjoyable afternoon.

Two Giants clash in final: Hancock overturns Harrison

By SHARON WALLS

The starting line for Hancock North Central got little rest as they battled Harrison Central to win the Bay High Invitational Tourney, 72-71, Saturday night at Bay High.

Harrison's Red Rebels held the lead until the last 20 seconds of the ballgame, when a field goal by David Ladner stole the win for the Hawks.

Hancock played a catch-up game from the opening set when they dropped behind 13-6 with three minutes in the first quarter. Alan Dedeaux scored two from under the basket to put the Hawks down by five. Mark Ladner contributed two more on a jump ball from a pass by Dedeaux.

The Rebels stayed out front with four goals and two points from the free throw line by Lewis Williams. A spectacular save by Mark Ladner almost out of bounds under Hancock's goal put the ball into Dedeaux's hands for an easy two to make the score 23-14 in Harrison's favor at the end of the first period.

Daryl Theodore opened the second half with a basket for the Rebels, but Barry Arcement came back with two out of two from the free throw line after a foul by Williams. David Ladner sprang three feet off the floor to grab the rebound from a Rebel shot and passed the ball to Dedeaux. Dedeaux netted another with a jump shot, and Moses Hill scored two points to put the Hawks within three at the half, 43-40.

By the half, Harrison Central had drawn 13 fouls, and Donald Buckley 21, had collected four of them.

Hancock slipped back nine, 57-48 at 1:41 in the third. Two points from David Ladner in front of the basket and two more from Barry Arcement brought the Hawks to 7-2. The Rebels countered with a basket from the corner, but Arcement and Shaw sank one each to end the quarter 59-56.

Dedeaux took the tip from David Ladner at the jump and netted two points to open the last period. The Red Rebels then took the ball down the court three times for six points. Arcement for the Hawks came back with two, and Moses Hill sank two more. Arcement scored another basket on a pass from Shaw, and David Ladner hit one of two from the free throw line to make the score 67-65. Ladner's free shot ended a streak of four misses from the line for the Hawks.

Harrison racked up two field goals in the last two minutes of the game to end their scoring for the evening. Buckley, 21, sent Arcement to the line for one point on a technical to bring the Hawks within five points of the lead. A jump shot from Dedeaux, screened by Arcement, then two points on a free shot from Arcement put the Hawks within one point of a tie ballgame, 71-70. David Ladner sank the decisive basket with 22 seconds before the final buzzer. The Rebels took the ball down the court, but the Hawk defenders kept Harrison from a clear shot.

"I am really proud of our boys in this tournament. They worked hard for the team," commented Roland Ladner, head coach for Hancock North Central, "but I would like to single out four boys who played exceptionally well in this tournament, and particularly in this final game. Alan Dedeaux and Barry Arcement did outstanding jobs this week. In the final, Saturday, David Wayne Ladner played all well. Sophomore Moses Hill also contributed a great deal."

"Our original game plan worked well with one exception. We thought if we could ever get four or five points ahead, we could really put the pressure on them and make them gamble with their shots. Harrison's outside shooters are good when they are not under pressure. Our players are smaller. They can get inside and take the percentage shots," continued Ladner. "We are proud of the victory, but we were hoping not to have to work so hard for it."

"Coach Van Chancellor is doing a great job at Harrison Central," Ladner said. "I have worked with him on the executive committee of the State association and he is a great promoter of basketball."

"I was just out-coached in this one," commented Van Chancellor, of Harrison Central. "He (Coach Ladner) took less material and won this tournament. It was an unbelievable job of coaching. Roland Ladner is a great coach and an outstanding person."

FAST MOVE - Hawk Barry Arcement, 44 seems to be flying through the air in this disparation toss. Arcement was one of two Hancock North Central Boys honored as All Tournament players.

JUMP BALL - Hawkette Shelley Dedeaux, 11, goes up after a jump ball by the Hancock goal. Dedeaux got the tip to teammate Sherie Ladner, 12, in the close game against Harrison Central.

'Cats tamed by SW Bears

By SHARON WALLS

Pearl River dropped two to Southwest Junior College Tuesday night in Poplarville. The Lady Wildcats were crushed by the Lady Bears 90-56, and the boys' team went down 92-78.

In the first encounter between the Lady Wildcats and the Lady Bears last November, the Lady Cats won 62-57, but Tuesday night the Southwest girls got their revenge.

By halftime, the Pearl River girls trailed, 41-32, but in the third quarter the Lady Bears pulled ahead by 25 points. Pearl River head coach Fred Roane played his second string in the final period because his starting five were in foul trouble and were unable to get things moving.

The loss put the Pearl River girls to a 3-11 overall record. Mary Nell Taylor scored 12 points against Southwest backed up by Stacy Hodge with 10.

The Wildcats beat the Southwest Bears by nine points last November, but last Tuesday, "nothing we did was right," as head coach Charles Rea put it.

The score was 16-0 after the first six minutes of the ball game. Rea said he tried every offense and defense his players knew, but nothing helped.

Melvin Oatis netted 28 points to lead the Wildcats. Elton Brown scored 14 and Carroll Gaddis got 11.

Harrison clips Hawkettes' wings

By SHARON WALLS

The Hawkettes were downed 52-43 by the Red Rebelettes of Harrison Central in a basketball game that was tied three times in the finals of the Bay High Invitational Tournament.

The scores were tied first 21-21 with 20 seconds left in the first half following two of two from the free throw line by Sherie Ladner. The Red Rebelettes retaliated with a basket to end the first half 23-21.

The Hawkettes tied it up again in the third period, 31-31, then Joey Nell Lee sank to pull ahead 34-31.

Harrison Central recouped their losses in the fourth quarter, taking the lead 39-37 then quickly racking up two goals to put the Rebelettes out front 43-37.

Shelia Ladner netted a basket for Hancock, but Harrison came back with two goals. The Hawkettes managed one more basket, before the Rebelettes sank two of two from the foul line to wind up the game.

Shelia Ladner led the Hawkettes with six field goals and three shots for 15 points. Joye Nell Lee contributed 10, and usually high scoring Shaymon Ladner drew five fouls after totaling four points.

Carolyn Graham was high scorer for the game with 20 points.

Shelia Ladner also grabbed 10 rebounds. Shelley Dedeaux and Sherie Ladner took three steals each.

After a discussion of the subject, Supervisor Travira offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, TO ENTER UPON AN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PROJECT AND TO ISSUE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT REVENUE BONDS OF SAID COUNTY IN THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED THREE MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($3,500,000) FOR SUCH PURPOSE AND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF NOTICE OF SUCH INTENTION.
WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, (the "Governing Body"), acting for and on behalf of

Hancock County, Mississippi (the "Issuer"), does hereby find, determine and adjudicate as follows:

1. The Issuer is a municipality as defined in Chapter 147, General Laws of Mississippi, Regular Session 1960, as amended, appearing as Title 57, Chapter 3 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 (the Act); and

2. On January 3, 1978, this Governing Body, as authorized by the Act, adopted a resolution making application to the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board (the "A & I Board") for a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity (the "Certificate") authorizing the Issuer to acquire, own and lease a Project as hereinafter defined and to issue its industrial development revenue bonds to finance said Project; and

3. The A & I Board, acting by and through its duly authorized Executive Committee, did on January 5, 1978, order and direct the approval of the aforesaid application and did issue its Certificate No. 317R to the Governing Body of the Issuer, which Certificate authorized and empowered this Governing Body, acting for and on behalf of the Issuer, subject to the conditions therein set out, to adopt and publish a resolution declaring its intention to issue industrial development revenue bonds of the Issuer as authorized by the Act in the principal amount not to exceed Three Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,500,000) (the "Bonds") to provide funds for the purpose of acquiring an expansion to an existing industrial enterprise which expansion shall consist of machinery and equipment (all of which expansion constitutes the "Project") for the manufacturing, processing and assembling of electrical cable products or other permissible products under the Act, and thereafter to lease the Project to the Company; provided that the Bonds shall be payable back as to principal and interest solely from the revenue to be derived from the leasing of the Project, and neither the Bonds nor the interest thereon shall ever constitute an indebtedness of the Issuer, nor ever constitute or give rise to, pecuniary liability of the Issuer or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GOVERNING BODY, ACTING FOR AND ON BEHALF OF THE ISSUER, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. That this Governing Body, acting for and on behalf of the Issuer, does hereby declare its intention to issue industrial development revenue bonds of the Issuer in the principal amount not to exceed Three Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($3,500,000) (the "Bonds") to provide funds for the purpose of acquiring an expansion to an existing industrial enterprise which expansion shall consist of machinery and equipment (all of which expansion constitutes the "Project") for the manufacturing, processing and assembling of electrical cable products or other permissible products under the Act, and thereafter to lease the Project to the Company; provided that the Bonds shall be payable back as to principal and interest solely from the revenue to be derived from the leasing of the Project, and neither the Bonds nor the interest thereon shall ever constitute an indebtedness of the Issuer, nor ever constitute or give rise to, pecuniary liability of the Issuer or a charge against its general credit or taxing powers.

SECTION 2. That the issuance of the Bonds in the amount and for the purpose aforesaid shall be authorized at a meeting of the Governing Body to be held at their usual meeting place in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M. on February 21, 1978, or at some meeting held subsequent thereto, unless on or before the aforesaid date and hour twenty percent (20 percent) of the qualified electors of the Issuer shall file a written protest against the issuance of the Bonds, in which event the Bonds shall not be issued unless authorized at an election on the question of the issuance thereof to be called and held as provided by law. If no such protest be filed, then the Bonds may be issued without an election on the question of the issuance thereof at any time within a period of two (2) years after the date hereinafore specified.

SECTION 3. That this resolution shall be published once a week for at least four consecutive weeks in the Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper published in Hancock County, Mississippi, and qualified under the provisions of Section 13-3-1 of the Mississippi Code of 1972. If you need an excuse for a party, Valentine's Day is a splendid one. Few days are filled with more nostalgia and romance. So, whether you decide on a candlelight dinner for two or a casual buffet for twenty, it is bound to be a special occasion.

There is so much you can do with romance as your theme. There are hearts and flowers, cupid and arrows, candlelight and wine. Any or all of these can be used to enhance the mood and create the ideal setting for a party. A heart-shaped cookie cutter can transform everyday canapes into Valentines. Heart-shaped molds turn an ordinary mousse or gelatine salad into a special party delight.

To get things off to a perfect start, begin the evening by serving a Valentine cocktail: the Cheri-Suisse Kiss. Use 1 oz. Nikolai Vodka, 4 to 5 oz. orange juice over ice in an 8 oz. glass. Top with 1/2 oz. of Cheri-Suisse Liqueur. The name and the drink will make your Valentine Day party quite special.

For a spectacular dessert try a Valentine Parfait. It's easier than pie and much more festive. Simply alternate layers of ice cream and Cheri-Suisse in a parfait glass. Top with red candy hearts. Put in freezer until serving time. The alcohol in the Cheri-Suisse Liqueur will keep ice cream at spooning consistency.

From cocktails through dinner, dessert and your after-dinner cordial, keep the Valentine theme in mind. This can be done quite simply by using a lot of red and white in your table setting and by using heart-shaped dishes and molds.
